

Wants Are Needs

by Kevin Pellot

the people who have everything are just like me now tell me, why is this?

growing up I thought if you were rich and had money, you had the world crazy how times change

now I believe not only are rich people miserable, but I also feel like I can relate you see, I felt lonely like I had no worth, depressed, unwanted crazy part is having things or not, I am miserable just like the rich people say I'm not like them wanna know why?

it's because I propose wants over needs but wait -

needing is wanting as well every day we are trying to survive and live we want to survive and we need to survive because we all have a purpose

I figured out my purpose, now tell me yours
