KEY NOTE SPEAKER

Michael Courtland Stanton

Class of 2018

Michael Courtland Stanton he/him/his is a 2013 graduate from Hammonton High School. Upon graduation, he immediately enrolled at Camden County College where he earned a degree in English in 2018. Michael spent seven years working as a dietary aide at a nursing facility while pursuing his degree. Being a believer in higher education, Michael completed a second Associate's Degree in Elementary Education in 2020. Michael is now graduating from Rowan University Magna Cum Laude with a Bachelor's degree in Elementary Education. He is currently completing his student teaching at Osage Elementary School in Voorhees, NJ as a 4th grade student teacher with the hope of becoming a 4th grade teacher.

STUDENT SPEAKER

Darnell Austin

Class of 2024

Camden County College

Darnell Austin is a Law, Government, and Politics major, and a Senior Airman in the United States Air Force. Darnell has also served as a Senior Correctional Police Officer for over a decade, and he is currently on orders with the Drug Enforcement Administration as a Criminal Intelligence Analyst. Through his work in law enforcement, Darnell was inspired to advocate for and defend underrepresented and at-risk youth. This, coupled with the birth of his daughter, Winter, inspired Darnell to attend College. In the Fall, Darnell will be attending Rutgers University- Camden where he will be studying Political Science and Government with the goal of attending law school in the future.

GONFALON BEARERS

Shana Pascalli

Class of 2024

Camden County College

Gonfalon Bearer for

Math, Science, and Health Careers

Shana Pascalli is a Dental Hygiene major on the Dean's List and Vice President of the Dental Hygiene Club. Shana has been an active member of the Camden County College community, and has taken part in numerous volunteer opportunities to support the surrounding community. Shana is a first-generation college student, and has faced many challenges in her personal life. However, after giving birth to her daughter, India, she was encouraged to make a positive change and provide a better future for her new family. After completing her State Board Examinations this summer, Shana plans to work as a Dental Hygienist in private practice. Shana's experience serves as a reminder that it is never too late to follow your dreams.

Jack Ruiz

Class of 2024

Camden County College

Gonfalon Bearer for

Liberal Arts and Professional Studies

Jack Ruiz is a Psychology major, member of the Camden County College Honors Program, and a member of the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society. As a Camden native, and justice impacted person, Jack had the unique opportunity to see where there were gaps in the justice system, especially in regards to juvenile rehabilitation. These experiences inspired him to return to college so he could use his education to support his community, and make a positive impact. In the Fall, Jack will be attending the Honors College at Rutgers University-Camden, where he will be double majoring in Psychology and Social Work. He intends to use his experiences to support those in underserved communities. Jack is proud to be a graduate of Camden County College and considers us all family.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Thank you to the Camden County Commissioner Board's Office of Sustainability, the Camden County Certified Gardener's Program, and Tara Gale for the live stage flowers that will be replanted after commencement.

COMMENCEMENT TRADITIONS

With all its pageantry, commencement brings together a long history of traditions dating back to the Middle Ages. From the strains of “Pomp and Circumstance” to the wearing of academic regalia and the use of the mace, Camden County College is proud to continue the commencement traditions of centuries past.

THE PROCESSION

The colorful academic procession, led by an honorary Grand Marshal bearing the College mace, includes graduating students, faculty, staff, administrators, trustees and platform guests.

THE MACE AND GRAND MARSHAL

A symbol of wisdom and strength, the mace represents the authority of the College and is derived from a combination of a Middle Ages weapon and a king’s scepter. The Grand Marshal carries the mace and leads the academic procession.

The custom-made Camden County College mace, designed and built in 1970 by faculty member Edward Pascht, was modeled on the British Parliament Mace. It is made of brass and aluminum and is composed of five separate metal pieces with multi-faceted sides and points in the crown. It contains 22 cut-glass simulated jewels. Inscribed on the shaft is the name of Dr. Lester G. Davidson, the first Grand Marshal.

THE MARSHALS

In medieval times, College marshals were considered disciplinary officers. Today, these faculty members are essential in guiding the academic procession as officers of protocol.

THE GONFALONS

Long used for ecclesiastical ceremonies and processions, these banners were first used to represent medieval Italian municipalities. They later were adopted by districts, guilds, corporations and churches in Italy and elsewhere before becoming part of academic ceremonies. Bearing a gonfalon was considered a devotional act and an honor.

Students graduating today will march behind the banner that represents their academic division. Carrying the gonfalons will be class members selected especially for this honor.

THE ACADEMIC REGALIA

In the Middle Ages, scholars and students wore caps, gowns and hoods at college and university functions to keep warm. By the mid-14th century, some English colleges forbade “excess in apparel” and prescribed the wearing of long gowns. Undergraduates at Oxford and Cambridge universities adopted the simply styled robes of the Benedictine monks.

Today, most colleges and universities employ robes for commencement. The hoods that are worn around the neck and trail down the back are lined with chevrons in institutional colors and bordered with velvet of the proper width and color to indicate degree and field of learning.

Students graduating from Camden County College wear black robes and caps that are similar to those worn by recipients of baccalaureate degrees. In addition, members of official academic honor societies at Camden County College may wear symbols denoting their achievement:

- Members of the Phi Theta Kappa International Honor Society for Two-Year Colleges graduate with a minimum GPA of 3.5 and the completion of English Composition I. They wear four honor cords (two blue and two gold) with “ΦΘΚ”.
- Psi Beta National Honor Society in Psychology members graduate with a minimum GPA of 3.25 and wear the society medallion. They may choose to wear a gold stole and/or gold honor cords.
- Kappa Delta Pi Education Honor Society members graduate with a minimum GPA of 3.0 and wear a purple, gold and mint honor cord.
- Alpha Mu Gamma Foreign Language Honor Society members graduate with a minimum GPA of 3.0 and have received an A in two courses of the same foreign language. Members wear a gold honor cord.
- New Jersey Collegiate Business Administration Association Honor Society members graduate in the top 1% of the business majors at Camden County College and wear pins and a single blue cord.
- Mu Alpha Theta National High School and Two-Year College Mathematics Honor Society members graduate with a minimum GPA of 3.0 in mathematics courses above College Algebra/Pre-calculus level. They wear one blue cord and one gold cord.
- Educational Opportunity Fund Grad Achievement Recipients graduate with a minimum GPA of 3.2 and wear a blue stole with a white border along with a blue and white cord.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

Sometimes referred to as a “collar” or a “lavalier,” the Presidential Medallion depicts the official seal of Camden County College and is worn to denote the authority vested in the President by the College Board of Trustees.
